4.Objection Handling

Objection: “I need to think about it.”

“Absolutely — this is a meaningful decision. Let’s clarify what specifically you want to think through so I can support you. Is it the strategy, the timing, or the implementation?”

Objection: “I already have a CPA.”

“Perfect — we don’t replace your CPA. We coordinate them. Most CPAs file taxes; they don’t build proactive tax strategy. We fill that gap.”

Objection: “This seems expensive.”

“I hear you. The real question is whether the plan saves you more than it costs. Our defined benefit plans, tax strategies, and insurance structures typically save $50K–$300K annually. Let’s look at the net benefit.”

Objection: “I’m too busy.”

“That’s exactly why we exist. Busy business owners need a coordinated team. We do the heavy lifting — your time investment is minimal.”

Objection: “I’m not sure I need all this.”

“Totally fair. Let’s revisit your pain points: taxes, lack of clarity, no coordinated plan. This solves those problems directly.”

5.PINNACLE PLANNING SALES SCRIPT

A polished, professional script for Meetings 1–4

MEETING 1 — Introduction & Discovery

Opening

“Thank you for taking the time today. Pinnacle Planning is built specifically for business owners who want clarity, control, and a coordinated financial team. Before we dive in, I’d love to learn more about you, your business, and what you’re trying to accomplish.”

Positioning

“Most business owners have a CPA who files taxes and an insurance agent who sold them a policy. Nobody is looking at the full picture. That’s where we come in — we coordinate your entire financial life.”

Pain-Point Extraction

“What’s your biggest financial frustration right now?” “What do you feel is missing in your current planning?” “What keeps you up at night financially?”

Data Gathering

“To build your preliminary plan, I’ll need to understand your income, savings, expenses, goals, net worth, and business structure.”

Close

“Thank you — this gives me everything I need to build your preliminary Right Capital plan. Our next meeting will be a full walkthrough of your financial landscape.”

MEETING 2 — Financial Landscape Confirmation

Opening

“I’ve built your preliminary Right Capital plan based on the information you shared. Today, we’ll confirm accuracy and begin shaping your goals.”

Plan Presentation

“This dashboard shows your entire financial life in one place — income, savings, retirement projections, tax exposure, and business planning.”

Goal Alignment

“Let’s refine your goals: retirement, tax reduction, protection, legacy. Which of these matter most right now?”

Initial Recommendations

“Based on your situation, here are the initial strategies that could create meaningful impact...”

Close

“I’ll refine the plan and prepare your full proposal for our next meeting.”

MEETING 3 — Proposal & Objection Handling

Opening

“Today, we’ll walk through your final plan and the full proposal. This is where everything comes together.”

Proposal Delivery

“Here’s the coordinated strategy across tax, insurance, retirement, business benefits, and legacy.”

Objection Handling

If they hesitate: “Let’s talk through what’s holding you back. Is it the strategy, the timing, or the implementation?”

If they mention cost: “The real question is whether the plan saves you more than it costs. Our strategies typically save $50K–$300K annually.”

Close

“Our next meeting is simply a decision — go or no-go.”

MEETING 4 — Conclusion (Go/No-Go)

Opening

“We’ve walked through your plan, refined it, and addressed your questions. Today is about deciding whether you want us as your long-term planning team.”

Decision Ask

“Based on everything we’ve covered, are you ready to move forward?”

If YES

“Excellent. Here’s what onboarding looks like:

- We finalize your plan
- We coordinate with your CPA and attorney
- We begin implementing tax, insurance, and retirement strategies
- You gain full access to your Right Capital dashboard”

If NO

“Totally understood. If circumstances change, we’re here. I’ll send a summary of your plan and next steps you can take on your own.”

Close

“Thank you for your time and trust. We’re here whenever you’re ready.”
